

The current status of china s energy storage inverter market

Overview

The China energy storage market size exceeded USD 223.3 billion in 2024 and is expected to register at a CAGR of 25.4% from 2025 to 2034, driven by the country's aggressive push for renewable energy and carbon neutrality.

The China energy storage market size exceeded USD 223.3 billion in 2024 and is expected to register at a CAGR of 25.4% from 2025 to 2034, driven by the country's aggressive push for renewable energy and carbon neutrality.

The China energy storage market was estimated at USD 223.3 billion in 2024 and is expected to reach USD 2.45 trillion by 2034, growing at a CAGR of 25.4% from 2025 to 2034, driven by the country's aggressive push for renewable energy and carbon neutrality. With a growing share of wind and solar.

China, which already boasts the world's largest energy-storage capacity, is set to nearly double that level by 2027, with an anticipated investment of 250 billion yuan (US$35 billion), according to Beijing's latest action plan. As outlined in the action plan, China's "new-energy storage system".

Chinese battery cell manufacturers are ramping up production to meet a surge in overseas demand for energy storage solutions, fueled by the global transition to renewable energy and market-driven electricity pricing reforms. Factories in Chongqing and Xiamen, Fujian province, of Hithium Energy.

China has published a national plan to promote large-scale energy storage facilities, encouraging investment and broader participation in the electricity market. The 'Special action plan for large-scale construction of new energy storage (2025-2027)' was published last Friday (12 September).

By the end of 2023, China had completed and put into operation a cumulative installed capacity of new type energy storage projects reaching 31.4GW / 66.9GWh, with an average storage duration of 2.1 hours. The newly added installed capacity in 2023 was approximately 22.6GW / 48.7GWh, which is three.
